

Bold and Confident

Each and every day, we are given the most incredible opportunity. We are given the chance to talk to a God who has been in our shoes. A man who literally walked the walk. He is waiting for us to walk up to him and ask him anything.

Jesus went through the same things we do during his time on earth, so he truly understands where we are coming from when we approach him. We don't need to muster up our courage! He wants us to be confident. Esther was bold when she approached her king about saving her people, and that guy was known to make rash and terrible decisions! We get to talk to a King who is known for his mercy.

My voice You shall hear in the morning, O Lord; In the morning I will direct it to You, And I will look up (Psalm 5:3, NKJV).

Are you holding back tentatively in your time with your heavenly King? Be bold, and be confident! He loves you. He understands you. He wants the best for you. He will show you grace and mercy in whatever it is that you seek.

Dear Friends and Family of First Presbyterian,

We live in strange times.

Then again, this is nothing new. For at every age, in every place, humans have often wondered about how to manage their lives in the midst of difficult and trying circumstances.

This was especially true of the early church. It is true of us today.

How should we, as Christians, live while the world around us seems to spin in the chaos of uncertainty? How are we to follow Jesus faithfully when we are bombarded with confounding points of view, confronted with conflicting "truths," befuddled with bewildering mysteries?

That our current situation is not unique to us becomes rather obvious when we read Paul's words to the church in Galatia:

I am astonished that you are so quickly deserting the one who called you in the grace of Christ and are turning to a different gospel – not that there is another gospel, but there are some who are confusing you and want to pervert the gospel of Christ. But even if we or an angel from heaven should proclaim to you a gospel contrary to what we proclaimed to you, let that one be accursed! As we have said before, so now I repeat, if anyone proclaims to you a gospel contrary to what you received, let that one be accursed! Am I now seeking human approval, or God's approval? Or am I trying to please people? If I were still pleasing people, I would not be a servant of Christ. (Galatians 1:6-10)

We, like our first century counterparts, live in a pluralistic world. A world where violence, political intrigue, people-pleasing, plagues, and divisions were commonplace. A world where conflicting truth claims vied for supremacy. A world where only uncertainty was certain. And when faith is mixed into this toxic stew, it's easy to see how some can be tempted away from the gospel... or at least from gospel living.

These temptations still exist today.

Please know that I look upon current events with increasing distress and lament. I confess that I am shocked by images coming from Afghanistan, concerned by the devastation in Haiti, saddened by the loss of life from various natural disasters, increasingly despondent over our political divisions.

But closer to home, I'm embarrassed at how we in our community, especially in the midst of continued COVID uncertainties, right here in San Angelo, are treating each other.

Not a day goes by when I don't read or hear about hateful things being said or done, often with the shallowest of pretexts and often in the most self-righteous and undignified of manners. Friends are turning on friends. Communities are

Advent By Candlelight

First Presbyterian Church partnered with Christian Fellowship Baptist Church will hold an Advent by Candlelight for women, on Monday, November 29th at 6:00 pm in Woods Fellowship

Hall. There will be fellowship, food, & drinks, at beautifully decorated tables. There will be a table hostess for each table, who decorates the table & provides an appetizer, dessert & invites 7 guests. First Presbyterian will provide the drinks. After a time of fellowship and fun, we will move to the Sanctuary for a beautiful night of worship. We will alternate tables between the churches so that we can all enjoy each other's company. We will have 4 Speakers with messages based on the 4 weeks of Advent. After each message there will be beautiful music to listen or sing to! Our worship service will end with the candle lighting & singing "Joy to the World".

If you are interested in being a Table hostess, or fmi please contact Tina Glass at 325-655-5694/325-450-1231 or email the church office at church.office@fpcsanangelo.org. You may also reserve a spot to come enjoy fellowship at a table with a hostess. I hope you will come ready your hearts with us for the upcoming Advent season.

stressed. Families are at each other's throats.

Sadly, even some who call themselves Christians, many who supposedly celebrate the freedom found in Christ, are partaking in behaviors unbecoming to people of faith.

Let's see what Paul has to say about freedom:

For you were called to freedom, brothers and sisters; only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for self-indulgence, but through love become slaves to one another. For the whole law is summed up in a single commandment, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself." (Galatians 5:13-14)

Lord, have mercy on us.

The church today has an opportunity to respond to the uncertainties of life with the certainty of Christ's love. Not only that, but the church today has the responsibility to respond to the uncertainties of life with the certainty of Christ's love.

While our politicians are trying to pass and enforce laws to regulate behavior, the church has a better way. While the world preaches division and hate, the church has a better way. While the media manipulates our minds for profit, the church has a better way.

By contrast, the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control. There is no law against such things. And those who belong to Christ Jesus have crucified the flesh with its passions and desires. If we live by the Spirit, let us also be guided by the Spirit. Let us not become conceited, competing against one another, envying one another. (Galatians 5:22-26)

Jesus, through the Apostle Paul, spoke these words to the church. The church needs to listen to them again.

For when the church shares and preaches and demonstrates the sacrificial love of Christ, especially when the world around us writhes in chaos, then we will experience the blessings of obedience.

Let me put it another way... For when you share and preach and demonstrate the sacrificial love of Christ, especially when the world around you writhes in chaos, then you will experience the blessings of obedience.

This is our calling. This is our hope. This is our comfort. This is our joy.

Go forth, and do it.

For the Joy!
Rev. Joel Moore

To Bill Keel & family on the loss of his wife, Cynthia Keel, who passed into eternal life on August 24, 2021.

Dear First Presbyterian Church, Thank you so much for your generous donation to the Texas Hunger Initiative and the Kids Eat Free Summer Meal Program. We are so proud of this program that has served over 264,000 meals since we began in 2010. This is truly a community effort and would not be possible without the commitment of the many churches, volunteers, and nonprofits who support Kids Eat Free. Thank you to your church for serving as a host for one of the meal sites and for helping us make sure that no child in our community has to go hungry during the summer months. We also appreciate the fact that you are providing a Blessing Box at the Church for those in need.

Thank you once again,
Mary Herbert

Dear Friends, Cards, phone calls, texts and flowers! Wow! Thanks so much for making my 60th birthday so special. It has been my joy to call our church home for almost every one of those years. I am so thankful for each and every one of my church family, past and present.

Blessed beyond measure!

Love, Evalie Grigg

Dear First Presbyterian Church! Thanks so much for the beautiful Chancel Flowers on August 15th in honor of my birthday on August 13. They were so beautiful and I am so thankful! Love, Wendy Moon

Dear Natalie and friends, Thank you for your generous donations the Children's Advocacy Center - Family Resource Center. We are so thankful for your overwhelming gift of school supplies! We have been busy filling back packs and school supply lists for the children in our programs. Thank you again for sharing with us and your continued support for the children and families in our community. Blessings to each of you,
Melody Jeter

Dear Church, Thanks so much for the flowers. I appreciate all you do for me!

Gospel Shaped Worship

Beginning on September 12, FPC will begin a seven-week sermon and Connect Group series entitled Gospel Shaped Worship. I am super excited about this series and the opportunity that we, as an entire church community, will have to study and learn together.

Each week, the Gospel Shaped Worship curriculum provides suggested sermon texts, Bible studies, videos, and daily devotionals to help us answer the question, "What kind of church should we be?" We, as an entire church community, will delve deeply into these resources and learn about how worship shapes our entire lives, not just our Sunday mornings.

New Connect Groups are forming to make this material more accessible to a wider range of participants. If you aren't involved in a Connect Group, please strongly consider joining one – at least for the seven weeks beginning on September 12. Participating in a Connect Group is an important aspect of allowing the Holy Spirit to transform our worship, provide both fellowship and accountability, and grow in our personal and corporate faith.

If you think you might be interested in joining and/or leading a new Connect Group, please contact the church office for more information on how to make this happen.

At the very least, please pick up material for you and your family to use at home. We have plenty of Gospel Shaped Worship Handbooks available. These include the daily devotionals and other Bible study materials that fit in with the weekly schedule.

Each and every week, I look forward to our time of worship together on Sunday morning. Your presence is valuable and necessary for the good and continued growth of our church community. I firmly believe that Gospel Shaped Worship will be instrumental in advancing our purpose of becoming believers who intentionally live faithful lives in service of Jesus Christ.

Join us!
